

MEDIA INFO

Date: 17 June 2024

IN ADDITION TO ITS THREE SITES, ATS GROUP PRESENTED ITS NEW SITE FOR TECHNICAL TEXTILE AT THE PRESTIGIOUS FAIR EUROSATORY 2024

- Starting from this year, ATS has been manufacturing technical textile ATS UD 230 necessary for the production of most ballistic products.

Paris, France 17 June 2024 - ATS Group is one of the largest exhibitors at the most significant event for the defense industry – Eurosatory 2024 in Paris, where it presents four sites for the first time this year. The event gathers more than 2000 exhibitors from 62 countries, 62000 visitors from 150 countries, 400 fighting vehicles and airplanes. Eurosatory does not only gather manufacturers but also more than 250 official delegations from more than 96 countries, experts, researchers, investors and journalists working on defense and security. Based on size, Eurosatory again proved to be the most significant international fair devoted to defense, land and air security. Starting from this year, ATS has been manufacturing technical textile ATS UD 230 necessary for the production of most ballistic products. ATS GROUP is the only Macedonian company that participates in world-famous security fairs. At Eurosatory 2024 the company presented its world-famous ballistic products and equipment and the new areas in which it operates and competes with the largest industry manufacturers in the world. The company has leading engineering expertise, machines and tools for ammunition production. Learn more about its newly launched products: maneuver bullet, steel core bullets and ammunition parts produced using its own 4.0 IoT technology. Long-awaited artillery ammunition solutions are coming soon!

Seated in Skopje, ATS GROUP is a modern Macedonian corporation consisting of four companies, three of which in Skopje and one in Samokov, with more than 500 staff and 40-years experience. They work to the highest standards producing a wide range of products with globally recognized quality, which is made evident by their numerous achievements and awards. ATS GROUP manufactures composite products for ballistic protection and ballistic safety designed for the army and the police. In addition, the company produces small caliber ammunition, as well as a production line for the development of the whole ensemble of ammunition production machinery, thereby increasing its export potential and implementing its development plan and mission every year in a row.

The fair was organized in 1967 for the first time and there has been an increasing number of participants, exhibitors and visitors. Currently it is No. 1 fair in its category. The French fair gathers defense and security professionals from all over the world every two years. Exhibitors demonstrated the use of drones, robots, new technologies and armoured vehicles. Throughout the whole week, in addition to exhibitors' dynamic demonstrations, armed forces and security departments demonstrated how they handle the newly developed technologies.